

Index

Tables, figures and box are indicated by t, f and b following the page number

For the benefit of digital users, indexed terms that span two pages (e.g., 52–53) may, on occasion, appear on only one of those pages.

- activism, introducing students to, 120–21
 - agency, personal, 91
 - authoritarian leadership, desires for, 71, 74–75

 - Baldwin, James, tragic optimism of, 32–33
 - Bandura, Alfred, self-efficacy, 108
 - benefits, of pragmatist hope, 50–52
 - Berger, Peter, plausibility structure for hope, 72
 - biographies, of exemplars of hope, 118–19
 - Blöser, Claudia, hope-based identity, 80
 - Bush, George H. W., ideal of hope in campaign, 5
 - Bush, George W., ideal of hope in campaign, 5

 - children
 - and capacity for hope, 81
 - citizenship education of, 83–84
 - cultivating hope in, 109–10
 - citizenry, democracy and changes among, 7–16
 - citizen passivity, 9
 - neoliberalism and privatization, 15–16
 - social disconnection and distrust, 11–15
 - systemic inequality and structural violence, 9–11
- citizenship, as shared fate, 126–30
 - community issues, exploring impact of, 128–29
 - globalization and, 127
 - inclusivity and, 126–27
 - nationalism and, 126–27
 - patriotism and, 126
 - self-care and imagining the future, 128
 - service learning and, 129
 - citizenship, educating students for, 82, 83–88
 - children, citizenship education of, 83–84
 - civics courses, and history of citizenship education, 84
 - classroom discussion, 86
 - collective action, preparing students for, 86
 - disparities in quality of citizenship education, 85
 - extracurricular programs, 121
 - generational characteristics among youth, 87–88
 - grit, defining, 89–93
 - issues-based education, 85–86
 - nurturing communication and deliberation, 110–11
 - scope of citizenship education, 84–85
 - social and emotional learning, 86–87
 - teaching hope vs. teaching grit, 88–89
 - civics courses, and history of citizenship education, 84
 - civil society, and relationship to hope, 72, 133–36
 - classroom discussion, 86
 - and building trust in students, 103, 132–33
 - community issues, exploring impact of, 128–29
 - and cultivating hope in children, 109–10
 - and developing communities of inquiry, 105–8
 - exemplars of hope, biographies of, 118–19
 - exemplars of hope, introducing, 109–10
 - grit, benefits and problems of, 93–94
 - modeling inquiry, viii–108

- Clinton, William Jefferson “Bill” objectives, and plans of action, 70 theme of hope in 1992 campaign, 4
- Coates, Ta-Nehisi, systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 55–56
- cognition, emotional vs. cognitive understanding of hope, 20
- collective action, and educating students for citizenship, 86
- collective hope, 61
- collective identity, student development
 of, 110
- communication, nurturing, 110–16
- communities building trust in, 49 developing communities of inquiry, 105–10
 hoping together, 62–64, 65–70
- community-based violence, effects on democracy, 9–11
- community issues, exploring impact
 of, 128–29
- community organizations, and participation in civil society, 135
- compromise, role in building trust, 131
- Confederate monuments, classroom discussion of, 106–8
- Contract with America, 1994, 78
- Cooke, Elizabeth, element of inquiry in pragmatism, 27
- cooperation, and communication, 112
- cooperatively shared hope, 61
- Creative Democracy* (Dewey), 45
- criticality, fostering, 116–21
- critical thinking developing among students, 116–17 significance of historical critique in, 118–20
 significance of language skills
 in, 118
- cultural identity, storytelling and, 100
- cynicism, vs. dissent, 117
- Davidson, Richard, developing hope, 92
- deliberation, nurturing, 110–16
- democracy
 and call to teach hope, 103–4, 136–38 cultural habits, significance of, 50
- elections, and opportunity for reassessment, 71
- habits of, 98–102
- intelligence and, 43–44
- and meliorism, 36–37
- pragmatist habits in context of, 41
- and pragmatist hope, political and social elements of, 45–47, 64, 65, 71
- promoting through education, 71–72
- and public education, 3–4
- trust and community in, 49
- democracy, and hope, 60–61
- approaches to hope, 61–62
- civil society, and development of hope, 72
- conflicting values, reconciling, 69
- cultural identity, building of, 76–77
- despair, and hope-based dissent, 74–75
- elections, and opportunity for
 reassessment, 71
- equality, striving toward, 72–73
- guiding principles, importance of, 68
- hope-based dissent, 73–76
- hoping together, 61–65
- identifying specific objectives, 60–61, 65–70
- inequality, effects on shared objectives, 66–68
- messianic leadership, desires for, 74–75
- personal identity, building of, 78–79
- publics, identities of various, 79–80
- reasons to hope, 80
- reciprocal relationship, 70–80
- shared content, and hoping together, 69–70
- social movements, and hope-based dissent, 75–76
- storytelling, and building democratic culture, 76–77
- storytelling, in political life, 77–78
- storytelling, opportunities for rural communities, 77
- democracy, effects of social changes on, 7–16
- citizen passivity, 9
- neoliberalism and privatization, 15–16
- social disconnection and distrust, 11–15
- systemic inequality and structural violence, 9–11

- Democracy and Education* (Dewey), 111
 despair, and hope-based dissent, 74–75
 Dewey, John communication, and cooperation, 112 communication, role in education, 111 Creative Democracy, 45 on criticality and dissent, 117 on democracy, 1
 “ends-in-view” goals, 28–30 goal-setting grit, 97
 habits of democracy, 100
 hope as habits, 42–43
 on hope in democratic society, 65 hope in indeterminate situations, 27 on imagination, 121–22
 on meliorism, 33, 34, 36
 openness to new ideas, 113 possibility, sense of, 73 pragmatism, element of growth
 in, 28–29
 on pragmatist habits, 38–41 on pragmatist habits, intellectual elements of, 42
 pragmatist hope, 29–30
 pragmatist hope, social elements of, 46 pragmatist philosophy, history
 of, 23–24
 publics, composition of, 79 dialogue, nurturing effective, 114 disparities, educational, 85
 dissent
 fostering, 116–21 hope-based, 73–76
 distributively shared hope, 61
 Duckworth, Angela, study of grit developing grit, 93–94
 goal-setting grit, 89–91, 97
 optimism vs. pessimism, 91–92 positive psychology and developing optimism, 97
 Dweck, Carol, growth mindset, 90, 91–92
 education educational disparities, 85 and promoting democracy, 71–72 and teaching hope, 81–83 Eldridge, Michael, intelligence and democracy, 43–44
 elections, and opportunity for reassessment and realignment, 71 Emerson, Ralph Waldo, and history of pragmatist philosophy, 23 emotion emotional and social learning, 86–87, 88–89
 emotional vs. cognitive understanding of hope, 20 empirical experimentation, and inquiry in pragmatism, 27–28
 end visions, deliberation of, 115 equality, democracy and striving toward, 72–73
 #MeToo movement, 74
 evaluation, as stage of inquiry, 115–16 extracurricular programs, and citizenship development, 121
 failure, contemplating reality of, 115 Farm Bureau, participation in civil society, 134–35
 Frankl, Viktor, tragic optimism of, 32–33
 Free Staters, in New Hampshire, 79–80 fully shared hope, definition of, 61–62 fundamental hope, definition of, 29–30
 “Genealogy of Grit, A” (Stokas), 95 Generation Z, characteristics and political activity of, 87–88, 102
 George, Alice Rose, *Hope
 Photographs*, 125–26
 Giver, The (Lowry), 101–2 Glaude, Eddie
 citizenship as shared fate, 129
 systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 55, 56
 globalization, and citizenship as shared fate, 127
 goals, “ends-in-view,” 28–30, 60–61 Goetzmann, William, on history of pragmatist philosophy, 23
 Green, Judith
 nurturing deliberation, 112–13 on social cultivation of hope, 46 on truth in pragmatism, 32–33
 Green New Deal, response of Farm Bureau to, 134–35

- grit
 grit curricula, 90–91
 hope and habits as alternatives to, 102
- grit, benefits and problems of, 93–96 in classroom teaching, 93–94 glorification of hardship, 94–95 perceived limits and conformity, 94 single-mindedness, detriments
 of, 95–96
 victim blaming, 95
- grit, defining, 89–93
 goal-setting grit, 89–91, 97
 grit curricula, 90–91
 growth mindset, and developing grit, 90 social vs. self benefits, 92–93, 95–96
- grit, teaching hope vs. teaching grit, 83, 88–89
 benefits and problems of grit, 93–96 children, citizenship education
 of, 83–84
 citizenship, educating students for, 82, 83–88
 citizenship education, disparities in quality of, 85
 citizenship education, scope of, 84–85
 civics courses, and history of citizenship education, 84
 classroom discussion, 86
 collective action, preparing students for, 86
 defining grit, 89–93 generational characteristics among youth, 87–88
 grit vs. habits of democracy, 98–102 hope and habits as alternatives to grit, 102
 issues-based education, 85–86
 social and emotional learning, 86–87, 88–89
 turning to hope, 96–98
- Grit Scale, 90
- Groopman, Jerome, developing hope, 92
- growth, as key element of pragmatism, 28–30
- growth mindset, and developing grit, 90
- Gutmann, Amy, importance of deliberation, 116
- habits, hope as, 38, 82 and alternatives to grit, 102 formation of habits, 39–40
 habits of democracy, 98–102
 habitual actions, 40 hope, intentional cultivation of, 44–45 hope and trust, 47–50 hope as agency and action, 44, 51–52
 as opposed to grit, 97–98
 pragmatist habits, 38–42
 pragmatist habits, adjusting and changing, 41–42
 pragmatist habits, and democracy, 41 pragmatist habits of hope, characteristics of, 42–43
 pragmatist hope, benefits of, 50–52 pragmatist hope, intelligence and, 43–44 pragmatist hope, political and social elements of, 45–47, 64, 65
 pragmatist hope, shortcomings
 of, 52–59
 types of habits, 40–41 understanding hope as habits, 42–45
- harm, accounting for in storytelling, 100
- Haro, Lia, social cultivation of hope, 46
- Hershfield, Hal, self-care and imagining the future, 128
- higher education, diminished public trust in, 59
- historical critique, and capacity for critical thinking, 118–20
- historical development, of pragmatist philosophy, 23–25
- hope as agency and action, 44, 51–52 call to teach, 103–4, 136–38 clearly stated goals of, 21 common understandings of, 19–22 cultivating beyond schools, 133–36, 137–38
 cultivating in children, 109–10 as desire and belief, 20–21 as emotion, 20 as expressed in presidential campaigns, 3–6 hope vs. optimism, 22, 35 hoping vs. wishing and planning, 21–22

- individualist understanding of, 20
- intentional cultivation of, 44–45
- and personal agency, 91
- as political and educational project, 17–18
- political elements of, 45–47, 64, 65
- in pragmatist philosophy, 25–26
- pragmatist philosophy as framework for, 19
- reasons to hope, 80
- religious contexts for, 21
- social elements of, 45–47, 64, 65
- sustenance of, 29
- teaching hope, 81–83
- and trust, 47–50
- as way of life, 29
- hope, and democracy, 60–61
 - approaches to hope, 61–62
 - civil society, and plausibility of hope, 72
 - conflicting values, reconciling, 69
 - cultural identity, building of, 76–77
 - despair, and hope-based dissent, 74–75
 - elections, and opportunity for reassessment, 71
 - equality, striving toward, 72–73
 - guiding principles, importance of, 68
 - hope-based dissent, 73–76
 - hoping together, 61–65
 - identifying objectives, 60–61, 65–70
 - inequality, effects on shared objectives, 66–68
 - messianic leadership, desires for, 74–75
 - personal identity, building of, 78–79
 - publics, identities of various, 79–80
 - reasons to hope, 80
 - reciprocal relationship, 70–80
 - shared content, and hoping together, 69–70
 - social movements, and hope-based dissent, 75–76
 - storytelling, and building democratic culture, 76–77
 - storytelling, in political life, 77–78
 - storytelling, opportunities for rural communities, 77
- hope, turning to, 96–98
 - hope as habits, 97–98
 - in inquiry and experimentation, 97
 - pragmatist hope, 98
- Hope Camera Project, 125–26
- Hope Photographs* (George & Marks), 125–26
- Hope Scale, 91
- Hughes, Langston, systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 55–56
- human progress, as element of pragmatism, 33–36
- identity, building of
 - cultural identity, 76–77
 - personal identity, 78–79
 - publics, identities of various, 79–80
 - and storytelling, 100
- imagination, cultivating, 121–26
 - and addressing stereotypes, 122–23
 - classroom discussion and activity, 100–26
 - inquiry and, 122
 - pragmatist hope and, 121–22
 - self-care and imagining the future, 128
 - visual storytelling, 125–26
- inclusivity, and citizenship as shared fate, 126–27
- individualism, and individualist understandings of hope, 20, 132
- individualism, effects on democracy
 - disconnection and distrust, 11–15
 - neoliberalism and privatization, 15–16
- inequality
 - effects on democracy, 9–11
 - effects on shared objects and objectives, 66–68
- inquiry
 - developing communities of, 105–10
 - imagination and, 122
 - as key element of pragmatism, 26–28
- intelligence, and pragmatist hope, 43–44
- interpersonal violence, effects on
 - democracy, 9–11
- isolation, effects on communication and deliberation, 113
- issues-based education, 85–86
- James, William
 - and history of pragmatist philosophy, 23–24
 - pragmatism as method, 64
- Jefferson, Thomas, public education initiatives, 3–4

- Kadlac, Adam, shared content and hoping together, 69–70
- Kennedy, John F., theme of hope in 1960 campaign, 4
- King, Martin Luther Jr.
and meliorism, 35
systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 56–57
- Koopman, Colin
on history of pragmatist philosophy, 25
on meliorism, 35
- language skills, significance in critical thinking, 118
- leadership, failure to fulfill promises, 9
- LeBron, Christopher, use of imagination, 122
- legislative candidates, engaging students in critiquing, 125
- Lerner, Akiba, social and political elements of pragmatist hope, 47
- Levinson, Meira, guided inquiry, 108
- Lottery, The* (2010), 81
- Lowry, Lois, The Giver, 101–2
- Lyon, Amy, grit curricula, 90–91
- Magnuson-Stessman, Jennifer, Hope Camera Project, 125–26
- Maholmes, Valerie
hope and personal agency, 91 on optimism, 97
- Mann, Horace, public education initiatives, 3–4
- Marks, Lee, Hope Photographs, 125–26
- McCain, John campaign themes and promises of, 5–6
final letter to America, 68
- McGeer, Victoria
cultivating hope in children, 109 trust in others, 48–49
- meliorism
addressing systemic racism, 55–56 and democracy, 36–37
as key element of pragmatism, 33–36
and social elements of pragmatist hope, 45
- Menand, Louis, on history of pragmatist philosophy, 24
- messianic leadership, desires for, 74–75
- #MeToo movement, 74
- military leadership, desires for, 71
- Millennial Generation, characteristics and political activity of, 87–88
- minimally shared hope, definition of, 61
- Mittleman, Alan, characteristics of hope, 43
- nationalism, and viewing citizenship as shared fate, 126–27
- neoliberalism, effects on democracy, 15–16
- New Hampshire, Free Staters in, 79–80
- Obama, Barrack, theme of hope in 2008 campaign, 4–5
- objectives
conflicting values, reconciling, 69
continued assessment of, 66–67 deliberation on, 114 fluidity of, 67
hope and identifying specific, 60–61, 65–70
inequality, effects on shared objectives, 66–68 and social agendas of power, 67–68
- Ocasio-Cortez, Alexandria, and fostering hope, 70–71
- optimism
defining and developing, 91–92
as opposed to hope, 22, 35
- Paine, Thomas, and history of pragmatist philosophy, 23
- Parkland, Florida, student walkouts in, 120–21
- passivity, among citizens, 9
- patriotism, and citizenship as shared fate, 126
- personal agency, hope and, 91
- personal identity, building of, 78–79
- Peterson, Chris, measuring levels of grit, 90
- Pierce, Charles Sanders element of inquiry in pragmatism, 26–27 and history of pragmatist philosophy, 23–24 pragmatist understanding of truth, 30

- PlaceBase Productions, 77
- planning, as opposed to hoping, 21–22
- political agency, growth of in social movements, 75–76
- political candidates, engaging students in critiquing, 125
- political elements, of pragmatist hope, 45–47, 64, 65
- elections, and opportunity for reassessment, 71
- and systemic racism, 57–58
- trust, significance of, 47–50
- possibility, hope and a sense of, 73, 74–75
- power, social agendas of, 67–68
- pragmatism, key elements of, 25–36
- growth, 28–30
- hope, 25–26
- inquiry, 26–28
- meliorism, 33–36
- truth, 30–33
- pragmatism, vs. other philosophical traditions, 25–26
- pragmatist habits, 38–42
- and communities hoping together, 62–64, 65–70
- pragmatist hope
- benefits of, 50–52
- characteristics of, 22
- imagination and, 121–22
- social and political elements, 45–47, 64, 65
- trust, significance of, 47–50
- turning to, 98
- pragmatist hope, shortcomings of, 52–59
- collective endeavor, need for, 58–59
- meliorism, reliance on individuals, 58
- systemic racism and, 53–58
- pragmatist philosophy
- as framework for hope, 19
- historical development, 23–25
- privatization, effects on democracy, 15–16
- Progressive Era pragmatists, 24
- project-based learning, 88
- public education, democracy and initiatives promoting, 3–4
- publics, various
- citizenship education of, 83
- identities of, 79–80
- role of civil society in building, 133–34
- racism, and shortcomings of pragmatist hope, 53–58
- Reagan, Ronald, ideal of hope in campaign, 5
- reflection, on success or failure of initiatives, 115–16
- religion, as context for hope, 21
- restorative discussion, significance of trust, 48, 54, 132–33
- Rigsby, Scott, as exemplar of grit, 92–93
- Rogers, Melvin, systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 55–56
- Rorty, Richard
- aiming for hope, 31–32
- on element of growth in pragmatism, 29–30
- identification with community, 32
- response to classic pragmatists, 24
- rural communities, opportunities for storytelling in, 77
- Sanders, Bernard “Bernie,” and fostering hope, 70–71
- schools, and teaching hope, 81–83
- children, citizenship education of, 83–84
- citizenship, educating students for, 82, 83–88
- citizenship education, disparities in quality of, 85
- citizenship education, scope of, 84–85
- civics courses, and history of citizenship education, 84
- classroom discussion, 86
- collective action, preparing students for, 86
- generational characteristics among youth, 87–88
- grit, defining, 89–93
- habits of democracy, 98–102
- inclusive and civil dialogue, 113
- issues-based education, 85–86
- social and emotional learning, 86–87
- teaching hope vs. teaching grit, 88–89
- science, diminished public trust in, 59
- Seligman, Martin
- measuring levels of grit, 90
- positive psychology and developing optimism, 91–92, 97

- service learning, and citizenship as shared fate, 129
- Shade, Patrick, on pragmatist habits of hope, 43, 65–66
- shared content, and hoping together, 69–70
- shortcomings, of pragmatist hope, 52–59
 collective endeavor, need for, 58–59
 meliorism, reliance on individuals, 58
 systemic racism and, 53–58
- single-mindedness, detriments of, 95–96
- Smith, Will, as exemplar of grit, 92–93
- Snyder, C. R., theorizing hope and understanding grit, 91
- social and emotional learning, 86–87, 88–89
- social changes, effects on democracy, 7–16
 citizen passivity, 9
 disconnection and distrust, 11–15
 #MeToo movement, 74
 neoliberalism and privatization, 15–16
 systemic inequality and structural violence, 9–11
- social elements, of pragmatist hope, 45–47, 64, 65
 trust, significance of, 47–50
- social imaginary, storytelling and, 136
- social movements, and hope-based dissent, 75–76
- social progress, as element of pragmatism, 33–36
- Solnit, Rebecca, comments on historical critique, 119–20
- Stahl, Titus
 approaches to hope, 61–62
 hope-based identity, 80
- stereotypes, addressing through imagination, 122–23
- Stokas, Ariana Gonzalez, grit and glorification of hardship, 94–95
- Stoltz, Paul, on grit, 92–93
- storytelling accounting for trauma and harm, 100 and building democratic culture, 76–77, 100 cultivating, 121–26
 guiding in classroom, 100–26 identity and, 100 opportunities for rural communities, 77 in political life, 77–78 and social imaginary, 136
 visual storytelling, 125–26
- Sullivan, Shannon, systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 56–57
- systemic inequality, effects on democracy, 9–11
- Taylor, Charles collective identity, 49
 social imaginary, 136
- teachers
 activism, introducing students to, 120–21 building trust, role in, 132–33 challenge of teaching hope, 103–4, 137 communities of inquiry, developing, 105–10 critical thinking, developing among students, 116–17, 118–20 extracurricular programs for citizenship development, 121 guiding imagination and storytelling, 100–26 nurturing communication, 113–14 trust, developing and assessing, 131
- theology, and common understandings of hope, 21
- Tough, Paul, on grit, 91
- trauma, accounting for in storytelling, 100
- Trump, Donald J.
 campaign themes and promises of, 5–6
 social and political elements of pragmatist hope, 46–47
- trust building trust, 130–33 distrust, and clarifying motives and interests, 132 and hope, 47–50
 role of compromise in building, 131
- truth, as key element of pragmatism, 30–33
- ultimate hope, definition of, 29–30
- values, reconciling conflicting, 69
- victim blaming, grit and, 95

- violence, effects on democracy, 9–11
- volunteer work, and participation in civil society, 135
- Waiting for Superman* (2010), 81
- Walzer, Michael, criticism founded in hope, 73
- Warren, Calvin, systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 56–57
- well-being, of self and others, 30, 32
 - and benefits of pragmatist hope, 50–51
 - and social elements of pragmatist hope, 45
 - trust, significance of, 49–50
- West, Cornel
 - on meliorism, 34
 - systemic racism and pragmatist hope, 53–54
- Whitman, Walt
 - on democracy, 3–4, 77
 - and history of pragmatist philosophy, 24
- wishing, as opposed to hoping, 21–22